75-02-01.2-05. Verification. While eligibility for the program is determined in large measure on information supplied by the applicant or recipient, aspects of eligibility that must be supported by conclusive, documenting evidence include:

1. The existence of conditions requiring professional examinations or judgments to establish the existence of incapacity or pregnancy;
2. The amount and source of all income;
3. The equity value of assets whenever available information or the prudent person concept suggests that the equity value may exceed program limitations;

4. The basis for special need requests;
5. The relationship between any dependent child, caretaker relative, and any other member of the household whose presence, assets, or income may affect the composition, eligibility, or benefits of the household;
6. School attendance of any child sixteen or older;
7. Citizenship or alien status of household members;
8. The identity of each member of the household;
9. Proof of or application for a social security number; and
10. Any other factor of eligibility for which available information is lacking, questionable, or inconclusive, and which suggests to a prudent person that further inquiry or documentation is necessary.

 - c. A stepparent;

 - e. A minor brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, stepbrother, or stepsister who is at least sixteen years of age.

75-02-01.2-10. Monthly report - Must be complete and timely.

1. When the county agency receives a completed monthly report, it shall process the payment only if all eligibility conditions are met. The county agency shall notify the household of any changes from a payment made in the month immediately past. If payment is being reduced or assistance terminated as a result of information provided in the monthly report, the county agency shall send an adequate notice, mailed to arrive no later than the resulting payment or in lieu of the payment.

The household may be reinstated to the payment amount made in the month immediately past if an appeal of the decision described in the notice is made within ten days of the date of the notice.

2. A county agency may terminate assistance if it has received no timely monthly report or has received only an incomplete report. The county agency shall send an adequate notice, mailed to arrive no later than the date it would have made payment if the agency had received a timely and complete monthly report. If the household notifies the county agency and files a complete report within ten days of the date of the notice, the county agency may accept the replacement report and provide for payment based on the report only if the information indicates that the household is still eligible. If, based on the replacement report, the household is found ineligible or eligible for an amount less than the payment amount made in the month immediately past, the county agency shall promptly notify the household of the right to a fair hearing and, if a hearing is requested within ten days from the date of the notice, the right to have payment reinstated to the payment amount made in the month immediately past.

75-02-01.2-11. Good cause for failure to submit complete and timely monthly report. Good cause for failure to submit a complete and timely monthly report exists only if:

1. The monthly report form was unavailable to the household because none was sent or it was lost in the mail;
2. The monthly report form was returned to the sender due to lack of sufficient postage;
3. The caretaker relative and all other responsible members of the household were absent from their usual place of residence, due to a death or serious illness in the family or the relocation of the household, during all the days between the day the report form was provided and the day it was to be returned;
4. Weather conditions prevented mailing by the household, delivery by the postal service, or receipt by the county agency;
5. The household was unable, despite reasonable efforts, to obtain necessary verification documents;
6. The county agency determines that the report form was incomplete due to the recipient's misinterpretation or misunderstanding of the form;

7. The county agency determines, for some other reason, that the household could not reasonably have submitted a timely and complete report; or
8. Claims of good cause must be evaluated using the decisionmaking principles described in section 75-02-01.2-12.

75-02-01.2-12. Determining claims of good cause. Determinations concerning claims of good cause require the use of decisionmaking principles. These principles must be applied to the individual's statements and information to determine if the requirements of good cause are met. The decisionmaking principles are:

1. The individual claiming good cause is responsible to show that good cause exists.
2. Uncorroborated statements of fact are less believable than corroborated statements.
3. Statements by persons with a reputation for being untruthful are less believable than similar statements by persons without that reputation.
4. A reputation for being untruthful exists if the files maintained by the department, the county agency, or the job opportunities and basic skills program coordinator's agency contain evidence of untruthful statements made by the individual, or if the individual has made untruthful statements that are a matter of public record.
5. Statements by individuals with a reputation for failures or delays in furnishing information necessary for official action are less believable than similar statements by individuals without that reputation.
6. A reputation for failures or delays in furnishing information necessary for official action exists if the files maintained by the department, the county agency, or the job opportunities and basic skills program coordinator's agency contain evidence of any failure or delay, without good cause, to furnish reports, including monthly reports, necessary verifications, or a failure or delay in attending meetings or interviews intended to secure information necessary for official action.
7. A statement of fact, made by an individual with something to gain if that statement is regarded as true, is less believable than a similar statement made by an individual with little or nothing to gain.

8. An individual's explanations or reasons for claiming good cause must be judged by a prudent person concept. A prudent person is one who exercises those qualities of attention, knowledge, intelligence, and judgment that society requires of its members for protection of their own interests and the interests of others.
9. Statements of fact made by the individual claiming good cause, or by other individuals who support or oppose the claim of good cause, are not presumed to be either truthful or untruthful. Rather, statements of fact must be evaluated to determine if they are more likely than not or less likely than not to be true.

75-02-01.2-13. Residence.

1. There is no durational state residence required for eligibility for benefits.
2. No individual who is otherwise eligible may be denied assistance under the program if the individual resides in the state.
3. A resident of the state is one who:
 - a. Is living in the state voluntarily with the intention of making the person's home there; or
 - b. At the time of application, is living in the state and is not receiving assistance from another state.
4. For purposes of establishing the temporary assistance for needy families filing unit, a child is a resident of the state in which the child is living other than for a temporary basis. For all other purposes of this chapter, a child is a resident of the state in which the child is living.
5. Residence may not depend upon the reason for which the individual entered the state, except insofar as it may bear upon whether the individual is there voluntarily.
6. Residence is retained until abandoned. Temporary absence from the state, with subsequent returns or intent to return when the purposes of the absence have been accomplished, must not interrupt continuity of residence.

75-02-01.2-14. Deprivation of parental support or care. A dependent child must be shown to be both "deprived of parental support or care" and "needy", although a causal relationship between the two need not exist. The phrase encompasses the situation of any child who is in need and otherwise eligible, and whose parent has died, is continually absent from the home, or is physically or mentally incapacitated. The requirement applies whether the parent was the chief breadwinner or devoted himself or herself primarily to the care of the child and whether or not the parents were married to each other. The determination that a child has been deprived of parental support or care is made in relation to the child's natural or adoptive parents.

75-02-01.2-15. Continued absence of a parent.

1. For purposes of this chapter:
 - a. "Deprived of parental support or care by reason of the continued absence of a parent" means a situation that occurs when all of the following factors are present:
 - (1) The parent is physically absent from the home;
 - (2) The nature of the parent's absence is such as to interrupt or terminate the parent's functioning as a provider of maintenance, physical care, or guidance for the child; and
 - (3) The known or indefinite duration of the absence precludes relying on the parent to perform the parent's functions in planning for the present support or care of the child.
 - b. A "parent's absence is such as to interrupt or terminate the parent's functioning as a provider of maintenance, physical care, or guidance for the child" only if one of these three functions is totally interrupted or finally terminated.
2. A determination that a parent's absence has or has not interrupted or terminated the parent's functioning must be supported by information provided by the applicant or otherwise available to the county agency.
3. Except as provided in subsection 4, if all three of the conditions for showing deprivation by reason of the continued absence of a parent are met, the reason for the parent's absence and the length of the parent's absence is immaterial.
4. A parent who is performing active duty in uniformed service is "absent from the home" only if there is evidence that continued absence would have existed irrespective of the parent's serving in uniformed service. Acceptable evidence that such an absence exists includes proof of legal separation, desertion, or divorce, either final or in process. If there has been no legal action taken, some indication of how the parent came to be absent must be provided.

5. A parent temporarily living apart from the child or children while attending school or vocational training or working or seeking work in another community does not meet the requirements for continued absence as long as the parent continues to function as a parent, even if the level of support or care is deficient or diminished.
6. Types of parental absences frequently giving rise to dependency in children include:
 - a. Divorce. The continued absence of a parent may be established as the result of divorce.
 - b. Separation. Legal separation is an arrangement by which a husband and wife live apart, subject to a court order that may divide the parties' property, provide for spousal or child support, and provide for custody and visitation of children, but remain married. Such court orders may be temporary or permanent. Separation by mutual consent or agreement involves the discontinuance of the marital relationship without legal action. Continued absence of a parent as a result of this arrangement can be established if there is no collusion between the parents to render the family eligible for temporary assistance for needy families.
 - c. Imprisonment. Imprisonment of a parent is a type of parental absence that creates dependency among children. Continued absence exists only if the parent is sentenced to and serves a thirty-day or longer term of incarceration unless:
 - (1) The term actually served is less than the sentence imposed;
 - (2) The term served is shortened by order of the court; and
 - (3) Assistance has been issued before information about the shortened term is received by the county agency.
 - d. Unmarried parenthood. A child born out of wedlock is deprived of parental support by reason of continued absence of a parent if the child's parents do not reside together.

- e. Desertion. Desertion is the voluntary and willful abandonment, by a parent, of the parent's child or children without making adequate provision for the care and support of the child or children.

75-02-01.2-18. Incapacity of a parent.

1. A child, if otherwise eligible for temporary assistance for needy families, is deprived of parental support or care when the child's parent has a physical or mental condition, supported by current competent medical testimony, of such a debilitating nature as to reduce substantially or eliminate the parent's capacity either to earn a livelihood or to discharge the parent's responsibilities as a homemaker and provider of child care for a period of thirty days or more. In making a determination of incapacity to earn a livelihood, the department shall take into account the limited employment opportunities of disabled persons.
2. The incapacity must be such that it reduces substantially or eliminates employment in the parent's usual occupation or another occupation to which a parent may be able to adapt. The fact that a parent may have to change occupation or work location does not establish incapacity or limited employment opportunities for a disabled parent. It does not matter whether a parent was employed or fulfilled the role of homemaker prior to the onset of the asserted incapacity. Incapacity is established either when the person is unable to earn a livelihood or to act as a homemaker. A parent may also establish incapacity by demonstrating that the parent has reached age sixty-five.
3. A determination that a parent is disabled or blind, made by the social security administration, constitutes adequate substantiation of incapacity for purposes of this section.

4. A parent continues to be incapacitated, for purposes of this section, if the incapacity is not reasonably subject to remediation, or if the parent makes reasonable progress toward remediation of the incapacity. For purposes of this section, reasonable progress toward remediation of the incapacity means cooperation with medical practitioners who prescribe a course of treatment intended to remediate or limit the effect of the incapacity, including physical therapy, counseling, use of prosthesis, drug therapy and weight loss, cooperation with vocational practitioners, cooperation with vocational and functional capacity evaluations, and reasonable progress in a course of training or education intended to qualify the parent to perform an occupation which, with that training or education, the parent would have the capacity to perform.
5. A parent who engages in activities inconsistent with the claimed incapacity may be determined to not be incapacitated.
6. The department may require a parent to demonstrate reasonable progress toward remediation of the incapacity, and may set reasonable deadlines for the demonstrations.

1. In the first month in which eligibility is established, based on any one application, the benefit amount is that pro rata portion of the monthly benefit amount equal to the percentage of the month remaining after the later of the first day of eligibility or the date of application, except:
 - a. In the case of a family that has entered North Dakota from a state which issues grants twice a month, the benefit amount is that pro rata portion of the monthly benefit amount equal to the percentage of the month remaining after the later of the date coverage in the other state ends or the date of application; and
 - b. The benefit amount may be adjusted to correct an underpayment or overpayment arising out of previous periods of eligibility.
2. In the second and subsequent months in which eligibility is established, based on any one application, if the monthly reporting requirements are met, the household continues to be eligible throughout the month if eligible for any portion of the month.

75-02-01.2-21. Asset considerations.

1. a. All assets that are actually available must be considered. Assets are actually available when at the disposal of a member of the household; when a member of the household has a legal interest in a liquidated sum and has the legal ability to make the sum available for support or maintenance; or when a member of the household has the lawful power to make the asset available or to cause the asset to be made available. A determination that an asset is deemed available is a determination that the asset is actually available.
- b. Assets must be reasonably evaluated.
- c. All assets owned individually or jointly by members of a household are deemed available to the household.
- d. Assets owned jointly by a member of the household and an individual who is a member of a separate household, but has a legal obligation to support a member of the household, are presumed available to the household unless the applicant can show that the assets are in fact not available.
- e. If the household can demonstrate that only a portion of an asset is available, only that portion may be considered.
- f. An asset is not available if it cannot be practically subdivided or sold.
- g. A stepparent's assets, whether owned exclusively by the stepparent or jointly with the parent, are deemed available in their entirety to the parent. Because the temporary assistance for needy families filing unit must include the parent, if technically eligible, the equity value of all assets, including the stepparent's assets, must fall within program asset limitations or the unit is ineligible.
- h. An asset may be temporarily unavailable while the household is taking reasonable measures to overcome a legal impediment.

- i. Assets ordinarily available to the household may be rendered temporarily unavailable to members of such a unit who are being served by shelters for abused persons and families while the legal ramifications of the circumstances that led to the need for such services are explored.
 - j. As in all instances in which there is a question of ownership, the household must be given the opportunity to present evidence in rebuttal of the presumption that a joint account is an available asset. A successful rebuttal may result in a finding that the funds in the joint account are in fact not owned by the household. For example, when the funds are clearly available to the family only in the event of the coowner's death, access is restricted and the funds are therefore not an asset. The funds are likewise not an asset to the family if withdrawals from the account are possible only with the surrendering of the passbook, which is not accessible to the applicant or recipient, or with dual signatures and the coowner may not sign.
 - k. An asset may be sold or exchanged for another asset. An asset acquired in an exchange or with the proceeds from a sale continues to be treated as an asset subject to the asset limits, exemptions, and exclusions applicable to the type of asset acquired. This subdivision does not supersede other provisions of this chapter which describe or require specific treatment of assets, or which describe specific circumstances that require a particular treatment of assets.
- 2. The financial responsibility of any individual for any applicant or recipient of temporary assistance for needy families is limited to members of the temporary assistance for needy families filing unit. Such responsibility is imposed upon applicants or recipients as a condition of eligibility. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the assets of the members of the temporary assistance for needy families filing unit are deemed available to an applicant or recipient, even if those assets are not actually contributed. For purposes of this subsection, biological and adoptive parents, but not stepparents, are treated as parents.
 - 3. Temporary assistance for needy families benefits, and any income, earned or unearned, which is taken into account in determining the amount of a grant for a particular month, may not be treated as an asset in that month.

75-02-01.2-22. Asset limits. No member of a household may be found eligible for benefits unless the value of the household's assets, not specifically excluded under this chapter, does not exceed three thousand dollars for a household consisting of one individual, six thousand dollars for households consisting of two individuals, and an additional twenty-five dollars for each additional individual. In all instances, including determination of equity, property must be realistically evaluated in accord with current market value. Any reasonable costs associated with liquidation of excess assets must be taken into account.

75-02-01.2-23. Exempt assets. The following assets are exempt from consideration in determining eligibility for temporary assistance for needy families benefits:

1. The home occupied by the household including trailer homes being used as living quarters, and the land upon which the home stands, up to twenty contiguous acres [8.09 hectares], if rural, and up to two acres [.81 hectare], if located within the established boundaries of a city;
2. Personal effects, wearing apparel, household goods, and furniture;
3. One car, van, or pickup of any equity value;
4. Indian trust or restricted lands, the proceeds from the sale thereof so long as those proceeds are impressed with the original trust, and the proceeds from the lease thereof so long as those proceeds are not commingled with other funds;
5. For the month of receipt and the following month, any refund of federal income taxes made to a member of the household by reason of 25 U.S.C. 32, relating to earned income tax credit, and any payment made to a member of the household by an employer under 26 U.S.C. 3507, relating to advance payment of earned income tax credit;
6. Real property that the household is making a good-faith effort to sell;
7. Indian per capita funds and judgment funds awarded by either the Indian claims commission or the court of claims after October 19, 1973, interest and investment income accrued on such Indian per capita or judgment funds while held in trust, and purchases made using interest or investment income accrued on such funds while held in trust. The funds must be identifiable and distinguishable from other funds. Commingling of per capita funds, judgment funds, and interest and investment income earned on those funds, with other funds, results in loss of the exclusion;

8. The equity value of all assets owned by a member of the household who is a recipient of supplemental security income; and
9. The equity value of the assets, jointly owned by a program household member and a recipient of supplemental security income.

2. Makes sales efforts including contacts with persons who respond to advertising efforts, persons known to be potential purchasers of property of the type offered, and entry into a listing agreement with a real estate agency;

75-02-01.2-26. Disqualifying transfers.

1. The transfer of an asset, without adequate consideration, disqualifies the household from receipt of benefits for a period beginning with the month in which the transfer took place and continuing for a number of months equal to the result of dividing the household's total equity value in the transferred asset by the standard of need applicable to the household.
2. Notwithstanding subsection 1, a transfer is not disqualifying if it is made by an individual, who is not a responsible relative, by removing the name of a member of the household from a jointly owned account to which no member of the household contributed, provided that the name of the household member is removed:
 - a. If the existence of the account is discovered by the county agency while the household is in the process of applying for assistance, before the initial payment is certified; or
 - b. If the existence of the account is discovered by the county agency while the household is receiving benefits, within thirty days after that discovery.
3. If the household member who caused the household's ineligibility due to a disqualifying transfer leaves the household, the remaining household members are no longer subject to the disqualification penalty only if the transferred asset was owned solely by the departing household member. Effective the day following the day in which the individual left the household, the remaining members may apply for benefits. If the transferred asset was jointly owned with any remaining member of the household, the disqualification period must continue as initially calculated.
4. When an individual who caused a household's ineligibility due to a disqualifying transfer moves to a different household, the new household may be disqualified from the receipt of benefits for a period beginning with the month in which the individual became a member of the new household and continuing for a number of months equal to the result of:
 - a. Reducing the individual's total equity value in the transferred asset by an amount equal to the number of months of disqualification imposed upon the previously disqualified household times the standard of need applicable to that household; and

- b. Dividing that result by the standard of need applicable to the new household.

Information provided, or an attestation to lack of information, is not presumed correct.
- 5. 75-02-01.2-34. Good cause for failure or refusal to cooperate in obtaining support or establishing paternity.

- 1. The county agency, for good cause, may waive the requirement that an individual cooperate in obtaining support and establishing paternity if it determines that cooperation is against the best interests of the child. A county agency may determine that required cooperation is against the best interests of the child only if:
 - a. The individual's cooperation in establishing paternity or securing child support is reasonably anticipated to result in:
 - (1) Physical harm to the child for whom support is to be sought;

 - (3) Physical harm to the parent or caretaker relative with whom the child is living which reduces that individual's capacity to care for the child adequately; or

 - (2) Legal proceedings for the adoption of the child are pending before a court of competent jurisdiction; or
 - (3) The individual, otherwise required to cooperate, is currently being assisted by a public or licensed private social agency to resolve the issue of whether to keep or relinquish the child for adoption, and the discussions have not gone on for more than three months.
2. Physical harm and emotional harm must be of a serious nature in order to justify a waiver.
3. A waiver due to emotional harm may only be based on a demonstration of an emotional impairment that substantially impairs the individual's functioning. In determining a waiver, based in whole or in part upon the anticipation of emotional harm to the child, the parent, or the caretaker relative, the county agency shall consider:
- a. The present emotional state of the individual subject to emotional harm;
 - b. The emotional health history of the individual subject to emotional harm;
 - c. Intensity and probable duration of the emotional impairment;
 - d. The degree of cooperation to be required; and
 - e. The extent of involvement of the child in the paternity establishment or support enforcement activity to be undertaken.

4. In all cases in which the county agency has determined that good cause exists based on a circumstance subject to change, a determination to grant a waiver must be reviewed no less frequently than every six months to determine if the circumstances which led to the waiver continue to exist.
5. Claims of good cause must be evaluated using the decisionmaking principles described in section 75-02-01.2-12.

1. All income that is actually available must be considered. 75-02-01.2-46. Gross income test. Repealed effective January 1, 2003.

75-02-01.2-47. Budgeting process.

1. Budgeting is the process by which a household's need is determined. Through the process available, income is matched against the standard of need.

2. If nonexcluded income exceeds the standard of need, the household is not needy, and the household is ineligible for assistance.

75-02-01.2-48. Net income test. The applicant or applicant household is subject to a net income test. The net income test compares the standard of need, personal needs allowance for out-of-home eligible individuals, and special items of need to the adjusted net income. If the adjusted net income is less than the standard of need, personal needs allowance, and special items of need, the household passes the net income test and the cash grant amount is calculated.

75-02-01.2-49. Income considerations.

1. All income must be considered in establishing eligibility and in determining the cash grant amount.
2. Income must be reasonably evaluated. A determination that income is deemed available is a determination that the income is actually available.
3. Income from wages, or any other source, must be considered received in the month in which it was actually received or considered to be available. Wages held at the request of an employee must be considered income in the month in which the wages would otherwise have been paid by the employer.
4. A member of a household who receives regular income, other than on a monthly basis, may occasionally receive an extra check which causes the unit to become ineligible in the month of receipt. If the receipt of additional income is anticipated to result in ineligibility for only one month, the case may be suspended, rather than closed.
 - a. If the additional income is received in the month of application, the first month of prospective budgeting, the application must be denied.
 - b. If the additional income is received in the month after the month of application, the second month of prospective budgeting, the case must be prospectively suspended, and all income, except income derived from the last check received in that month, from the source of regular income, must be retrospectively budgeted.

- c. If the additional income is received in any month except the month of application or the month after the month of application, all income must be retrospectively budgeted.

75-02-01.2-50. Earned income considerations.

1. Earned income must be verified and documented in the case record. Earned income may be received from a variety of sources.
2. Net earned income is determined by adding monthly net income from self-employment to other monthly earned income and subtracting the applicable deductions.
3. Except as provided in subsection 4, "monthly net income from self-employment" means:
 - a. In the case of a self-employed individual whose business does not require the purchase of goods for sale or resale, seventy-five percent of gross monthly earnings from self-employment.
 - b. In the case of a self-employed individual whose business requires the purchase of goods for sale or resale, seventy-five percent of the result determined by subtracting cost of goods purchased from gross receipts, determined monthly.
 - c. In the case of a business that furnishes room and board, monthly gross receipts less one hundred dollars per room and board client.
 - d. In the case of a self-employed individual in a service business that requires the purchase of goods or parts for repair or replacement, twenty-five percent of gross monthly earnings from self-employment.
 - e. In the case of a self-employed individual who receives income other than monthly, if the most recently available federal income tax return accurately predicts income, twenty-five percent of gross annual income, plus any net gain resulting from the sale of capital items, plus ordinary gains or minus ordinary losses, divided by twelve. If the most recent available federal income tax return does not accurately predict income because the business has been recently established, because the business has been terminated or subject to severe reversal, because the applicant or recipient makes a convincing showing that actual net income is substantially less than twenty-five percent of gross profit, or because the county agency determines for any reason that actual net profits are substantially greater than twenty-five percent of gross profit, an amount determined by the county agency to represent the best estimate of monthly net income from self-employment must be used. A self-employed individual shall provide, on a monthly basis, the best information available on income and cost of goods. Income statements, when available, must be used as a basis for computation. If the business is farming or any other seasonal business, the annual net income, divided by twelve, is the monthly net income.

4. If earnings from more than one month are received in a lump sum payment, the payment must be divided by the number of months in which the income was earned, and the resulting monthly amounts are attributed to each of the months with respect to which the earnings were received.
5. Income received on a contractual basis is allocated equally to each of the months covered by the contract, regardless of when the contract payments are actually received, and is deemed available to be received in the months to which income is allocated.
6. The standard employment expense allowance recognizes all costs associated with employment, including transportation, uniforms, social security contributions, and income tax withholding. This standard allowance applies to adult household members and nonstudent dependent children who are employed either full time or part time.
7. The standard employment expense allowance is the greater of one hundred eighty dollars or twenty-seven percent of gross earned income per month. This standard employment expense allowance applies to all individuals who receive an employment expenses allowance, including stepparents and parents of minor parents.

75-02-01.2-51. Disregarded income.

1. The department shall establish an employment incentive, and an employment incentive limit, to reasonably encourage household members to earn income.
2. If permitted under subsection 3, income must be disregarded, as an employment incentive, in determining the cash grant amount.
 - a. The greater of one hundred eighty dollars or twenty-seven percent of the household's monthly gross earned income, except earnings of any child who is a full-time elementary or high school student, is disregarded as a standard work expense. The amount remaining is net earned income.

- b. Any net earned income that exceeds the income incentive limit is treated as countable earned income.
- c. A portion of net earned income that is equal to or less than the income incentive limit may be disregarded, under this subdivision, in determining countable earned income.
 - (1) If an applicant has earned income in the month of application or the month after the month of application, at least fifty percent of the net earned income may be disregarded for six months beginning the month in which the earned income is first budgeted.
 - (2) If a recipient has earned income, at least thirty-five percent of the net earned income may be disregarded for months seven through nine beginning the month earned income is first budgeted.
 - (3) If a recipient has earned income, at least twenty-five percent of the net earned income may be disregarded for months ten through thirteen after the month earned income is first budgeted.
 - (4) If a recipient has earned income, no net earned income may be disregarded under this subdivision after the thirteenth month after the month earned income is first budgeted.
 - (5) Individuals that have received a full thirteen months of the incentive known as the time-limited percentage will not be eligible for this incentive again.
- d. An employed household member who receives an employment incentive disregard for a period of at least four consecutive months is provided employment incentive disregards of at least fifty percent for the first six months after the month in which the income is first budgeted, at least thirty-five percent for months seven through nine, at least twenty-five percent for months ten through thirteen, and none thereafter.
- e. An employed household member who receives an employment incentive disregard for a period of less than four consecutive months is, upon reemployment, provided the employment incentive disregards the member would have received if the first month of reemployment was the first month income is budgeted retrospectively.

- f. If an employed household member, who is receiving the employment incentive disregard, voluntarily terminates employment and is unable to show good cause for failure or refusal to participate, the employment incentive disregard cycle continues as if the household member was employed.
 - g. If any nondisregarded income remains, a health insurance premium, or paid child support or alimony, if applicable, may be disregarded.
 - h. If any nondisregarded income remains, child and dependent care costs that are employment-related or a combination of employment-related and education or training-related may be disregarded.
- 3. An income disregard is available only if the eligible employed individual previously received assistance, but has not completed the twelve-month earned income employment incentive disregard cycle, including months in which the earned income disregard was unavailable because:
 - a. No payment was made because the calculated cash grant was less than ten dollars;
 - b. The household voluntarily requested termination of assistance for the primary purpose of avoiding completion of the earned income employment incentive disregard cycle or any part of that cycle;
 - c. The household failed, without good cause, to file a signed and completed monthly report form by the fifteenth day of the month in which the report was due;
 - d. A member of the household terminated or reduced employment, without good cause, in the thirty days preceding the month in which the earned income employment incentive disregard was unavailable; or
 - e. A member of the household refused a bona fide job offer, or voluntarily quit a job, without good cause, in the thirty days preceding the month in which the earned income employment incentive disregard was unavailable.
- 4. If, in any month, additional income received from a recurring source causes the household to be suspended as ineligible for one month, the month of suspension does not count as a month for purposes of this section.

5. Nonhousehold member deduction for stepparent and minor parent budgeting, if applicable, may be made.

75-02-01.2-52. Voluntary quit or refusal of employment. No household member, except a dependent child, may refuse a bona fide offer of employment or training for employment, or terminate employment, without good cause, within thirty days before the date of application.

1. If an offer of employment or training was made through job service North Dakota, job service North Dakota shall determine if a bona fide offer was made and if there was good cause for refusing it.
2. If an offer of employment or training was made other than through job service North Dakota, the county agency shall determine if a bona fide offer was made and if there was good cause for refusing it, considering the following factors:
 - a. Whether there was a definite offer of employment at wages meeting any applicable minimum wage requirements and that are customary for such work in the community;
 - b. Whether there were any questions as to the physical or mental ability of the household member to engage in the offered employment or training for employment;
 - c. Whether there were any questions of the working conditions such as risks to health, safety, or lack of workers' compensation protection;
 - d. Whether the household member had a way to get to or from the particular job, including evidence the household member reasonably attempted to arrange for transportation;
 - e. Whether, as a condition of being employed, the household member would be required to join a company union, or to resign or refrain from any bona fide labor organization, or would be denied the right to retain membership in and observe the lawful rules of any such organization;
 - f. Whether the position offered is vacant directly due to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute;

- g. Whether the work is at an unreasonable distance from the household member's residence, provided one-way traveltime of one hour or less may not be treated as an unreasonable distance;
 - h. Whether gross wages are less than the allowable employment expense and child care or adult dependent care;
 - i. Whether an individual's substantially continuous presence in the household is necessary to care for another individual in the household to whom the individual owes a legal duty to provide care, who has a condition, verified by reliable medical evidence, which does not permit self-care or care by another household member; and
 - j. Whether the individual is a victim of domestic violence.
3. If it is determined that a household member voluntarily quit employment or a bona fide offer of employment or training was refused by a household member, without good cause:
- a. In the case of a recipient household, the member who voluntarily quits a job or refuses a bona fide offer of employment or training for employment is ineligible for the benefit month in which the refusal occurred; and
 - b. In the case of an applicant household, the entire household is ineligible for the thirty days following the actual date of refusal or termination of employment.
4. If it is determined that a recipient household member voluntarily quits employment without good cause, without prior approval from the household member's coordinator, that household member is ineligible in the benefit month in which the job quit occurred, and may not receive the standard employment expense allowance described in section 75-02-01.2-51, any employment incentive disregard, or any child or adult dependent care deduction, in the month the job quit occurred, and in the month the income is budgeted.

75-02-01.2-53. Deduction for dependent care.

- 1. A deduction for a member of a household who is an employed caretaker relative or attending school or training may be made for the cost of necessary care of a child or incapacitated adult who is a member of the household, living in the home, and receiving assistance.

2. The deduction may not be made for the cost of dependent care provided by the caretaker relative's child or stepchild who is under twenty-one years of age, unless:
 - a. The provider of dependent care does not live in the home occupied by the household;
 - b. The provider of dependent care is at least eighteen years of age;
 - c. The provider of dependent care was not claimed as a dependent on the most recent federal income tax return filed by the caretaker relative;
 - d. A bona fide relationship of employer and employee exists between the caretaker relative and the provider of dependent care; and
 - e. The provider of dependent care is not a member of the caretaker relative's household.
3. The deduction may not be made for the cost of dependent care provided to a child by that child's stepparent or parent who lives in the home occupied by the household.
4. The deduction is for the lesser of the actual cost of care or limits established under the child care assistance program based on the age of the child.

75-02-01.2-54. Unearned income considerations.

1. Unearned income must be verified and documented in the case record.
2. All unearned income must be treated as available in the month in which the income is received unless the income is disregarded. Unearned income must be applied to determine eligibility for, and the amount of, the household's monthly cash grant.
3. All nonexempt unearned income must be considered available in the month in which it is received. Unearned income is usually received at fixed intervals and at regularly scheduled dates. State or federal assistance payments such as supplemental security income or social security received on a recurring basis must be treated as received once per month, even if mailing cycles may cause two payments to be received in one month and none received in another month.

4. Unearned income received annually or received in regular annual totals, but in irregular intervals, must be considered available, in each month, in an amount equal to one-twelfth of the annual total. The twelve-month period may be a calendar year or other twelve-month fiscal period appropriate to the nature of the payment. Sources of income appropriate for this treatment include:
 - a. Nonexcluded lease payment income deposited in and disbursed through individual Indian moneys accounts maintained by individual Indians by the bureau of Indian affairs as proceeds from the lease of lands held by the federal government in trust for the Indian;
 - b. Lease payments made to persons for the use of lands occupied or owned by those persons unless the lease specifically provides for monthly payments or unless the lease is for a total term of less than one year; and
 - c. Mineral lease payments, however denominated, except initial leasing bonus payments.

75-02-01.2-55. Reinstatement following suspension or case closing.

1. If assistance is reinstated after a suspension of one month, all factors of eligibility must be considered to determine eligibility. If eligibility exists, the amount of assistance is determined based on two-month retrospective budgeting.
2. If the household is for any reason ineligible in the month following the month of a suspension, the case must be closed.

75-02-01.2-58. Computing payment if individuals are added to the household.

1. If the individual being added to a household did not receive assistance in the previous month, assistance for the added individual is based on the pro rata portion of the additional monthly cash grant amount equal to the percentage of the month remaining after:
 - a. The date of birth of a newborn, provided that the request for the newborn is made within ten days of the date of birth and the newborn's social security number or application for social security number and verification of birth are furnished within thirty days of the request; and
 - b. In all other cases, the later of the date of the request or the date the individual becomes eligible.
2. If the individual being added to an existing household received a temporary assistance for needy families grant from another state in the preceding calendar month:
 - a. The added individual's cash grant must be determined effective the first day of the month of request or prorated from the date of eligibility, whichever is later; and
 - b. The county agency shall compute the added individual's cash grant for the initial month of eligibility and the month following using prospective budgeting.

3. If the individual being added to an existing household received a temporary assistance for needy families grant in North Dakota during the preceding calendar month:

1. Except as provided in subsection 3, if an eligible child lives in the home of a relative who is not the child's parent, the relative is ineligible if the relative's spouse also lives in the home.

2. If an eligible child lives in the home of a relative who is not the child's parent, and the spouse of that relative does not also live in the home, the relative:
 - a. Must be excluded from the household if the relative's income and assets would cause the household to be ineligible; and
 - b. May be included in the household if the relative requests inclusion and the relative's income and assets do not cause the household to be ineligible.
3. Except as provided in subsection 5, if an eligible child lives in the home of a relative who is not the child's parent, but who is, and could in the absence of that child be, a member of a household which includes the spouse of the relative, the eligible child must be added as a member of the household of the relative.
4. Except as provided in subsection 5, if two or more eligible children are living in the home of an ineligible relative who is not a parent of either child, all eligible children must be included in a single household.
5. An individual who is a caretaker relative in a household may act as a temporary payee for a child who is a member of another household and with respect to whom the individual is a relative, while that child lives temporarily with the individual, to preserve the child's usual living arrangement with that child's caretaker relative who is:
 - a. Hospitalized; or
 - b. Incarcerated for ninety days or less.
6. If two or more relatives, who are each eligible caretakers for one or more children but who are not married to each other and who have no children in common living in the household, live together, each caretaker and the child or children with respect to whom that caretaker is a relative must be budgeted as a household.
7. If a child lives with a relative who receives supplemental security income benefits, budgeting is based on the number of eligible individuals in the household.
8. If a child lives with a parent whose needs are deleted from the benefit due to the parent's failure to cooperate in obtaining support and in establishing paternity or in the job opportunities and basic skills program, the parent's income and assets must be considered in determining eligibility for the remaining members of the household. The income of the parent is subject to any applicable income disregards.

9. If an eligible caretaker leaves a child in the care of another individual while the caretaker pursues an educational program in another community, budgeting for the household must be done as if the unit resided together.
10. a. If a member of a household is hospitalized or residing in a halfway house, a drug and alcohol facility, the North Dakota state hospital, a nursing home, or a swing bed facility, and there is a medical plan that the individual may return to the household:
 - (1) No reduction in assistance may be made for the first three full months if the individual receives a cash grant, but the needs of the individual must be reduced thereafter to a forty-five dollar clothing and personal needs allowance; and
 - (2) Effective the first day of the month following the date of admittance to the institution, the needs of a household member admitted to a veterans administration hospital or any state institution other than the North Dakota state hospital must be deleted.
- b. For periods when the needs of an individual must be reduced, the individual's share of assistance is limited to the amount of the clothing and personal needs allowance, effective with the first month the reduction may be made. This budgeting arrangement must continue as long as the medical plan calls for the individual to return to the household, but may not exceed nine months.

- 1. The county agency may authorize payment for the cost of premiums for health insurance carried by the household. Payment may be made for only one policy of health insurance. If the policy covers individuals who are not members of the household, payment is limited to:
 - a. If the household or insurer provides information that describes the manner in which the insurance company allocates premium charges between the insureds, the allocation attributable to the members of the household; or, if that allocation is unavailable; and
 - b. The total premium amount, divided by the number of individuals covered, and then multiplied by the number of covered members of the household.

2. For purposes of this section, "premiums for health insurance" includes payments made for insurance, health care plans, or nonprofit health service plan contracts that provide benefits for hospital, surgical, medical care and dental or vision insurance, but do not include payments made for coverage that is:

75-02-01.2-69. Unrestricted payment of assistance - Exceptions.

1. The usual method of providing assistance under this chapter is through payments by check or credit on account, immediately redeemable at par, made to the caretaker relative or legal guardian at regular intervals, with no restrictions on the use of the funds. This practice is followed because recipients of assistance do not, by virtue of their need for assistance, lose the capacity to select how or when the needs of the household must be met. If the caretaker relative or other members of the household manage funds in a manner that is clearly detrimental to members of the household, or if the caretaker relative is subject to sanction for nonconformance to program requirements, protective payments may be used to assist the household in financial management.
2. a. A determination that there is a detrimental mismanagement of funds may be based on:
 - (1) Continued failure to plan for and make necessary expenditures during periods for which assistance is provided;
 - (2) Continued failure to provide children in the household with proper food, clothing, or housing so as to threaten the chances of those children for healthy growth and development;
 - (3) Persistent failure to pay the cost of rent, food, utilities, school supplies, or other essentials;
 - (4) Repeated loss of housing due to nonpayment of housing costs; or
 - (5) Repeated failure to pay debts that result in attachments of or levies against current income.
- b. The fact that debts are not paid on a timely basis may not be the sole basis for a determination that there is detrimental mismanagement of funds unless relevant factors, including the following, have been considered:
 - (1) Whether the family has experienced an emergency or extraordinary event that reasonably required the expenditure of funds ordinarily used to meet the needs of the household;
 - (2) Whether reasonable payments on necessarily incurred debt exceeds the family's income; or
 - (3) Whether the family has withheld payment on a debt as a part of a legitimate dispute concerning the amount of the debt or the terms or performance of a contract out of which the debt arises.

3. a. The county agency may select, appoint, and remove a protective payee to receive and manage a household's cash grant. In making a selection, the county agency shall consider any individual nominated by the caretaker relative.
- b. The protective payee is a fiduciary responsible for assuring that the cash grant is expended to achieve the maximum reasonable benefit for the assistance and for working cooperatively with the county agency.
- c. The protective payee may be furnished information about the household, from the county agency's records, sufficient to allow the protective payee's role to be carried out. The information furnished to the protective payee under this section remains confidential information subject to the provisions of North Dakota Century Code section 50-06-15.
- d. The status of a household for which a protective payee has been appointed must be reviewed by the county agency as often as necessary, but no less often than every six months, to determine if:
 - (1) The protective payee is performing satisfactorily;
 - (2) The household should be restored to unrestricted money payment status; and
 - (3) Some other arrangement should be sought for the care of children who are members of the household.

75-02-01.2-71. Making payment - Correcting overpayments and underpayments.

1. A payment of a cash grant is deemed to be complete as of 12:01 a.m. on the first day of the month for which it is issued.

2. Except as provided in subsection 3, a payment check must be endorsed by the payee, or an attorney-in-fact for the payee, with a signature, written in ink, in the same form as the indicated payee.
 - a. If the payee is a guardian, the endorsement must so indicate and must name the ward.
 - b. If the endorsement is by an attorney-in-fact of the payee, the endorsement must so indicate and must name the attorney-in-fact.
3. If the payee dies or becomes absent before a properly issued check has been endorsed, an endorsement may be made:
 - a. By the payee's spouse or surviving spouse, if that spouse has been living with the payee, and, if there is no such spouse;
 - b. By a temporary payee, and, if there is no such spouse or temporary payee; or
 - c. By the director of the county agency.
4. A payment check endorsed under subsection 3 must include, immediately below the endorsement, a statement of approval dated and signed by the director of the county agency.
5. A payment check may be issued to replace a lost, stolen, or destroyed payment check only if:
 - a. An indemnity bond is executed by the payee and delivered to the department's finance office; and
 - b. A stop-payment order is placed against the payment check alleged to be lost or destroyed.
6. Any overpayment, whether resulting from recipient or administrative error, or from assistance granted pending a decision on an appeal adverse to the appellant, and whenever made, is subject to recovery. Except as provided in subsection 7, an overpayment must be collected from any household that includes a member who benefited from, or who was responsible for, the overpayment, by reducing the cash grant, to that household, by an amount equal to ten percent of the standard of need.
7. If a court order, entered in a matter that considered the circumstances leading to the overpayment, requires restitution of an amount less than the amount of the overpayment, or requires periodic payments of restitution greater or less than the monthly amount determined under subsection 6, the amount of restitution and periodic payments so ordered must be used to calculate reduction, in the cash grant amount, used to recover an overpayment.

8. Unless the overpayment was the result of fraud, including fraud involving the crimes of theft and making false statements in a governmental matter, the county agency may suspend efforts to collect overpayments when no individual who benefited from, or was responsible for, the overpayment is a member of a household:
 - a. If the amount of the overpayment is less than thirty-five dollars; or
 - b. When recovery is determined not to be cost effective after an effort to recover has failed, including, at a minimum, a written communication describing the amount and basis for the overpayment, and requesting repayment.
9. The county agency shall promptly correct any underpayment for a current member of a household, or to an individual who would be a current member of a household but for the error that led to the underpayment.

A job opportunities and basic skills program sanction, a tribal native employment works program sanction, or a sanction for failure to comply with the social contract requirements, is cured only when the responsible individual demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the county agency, that the failure to cooperate or participate, as required, has been corrected for at least ten consecutive days.

 - b. That the training will result in a marketable skill that may reasonably be expected to enable the participant to become employed in a current or emerging occupation that has the potential to provide a wage great enough to enable the participant and the participant's family to become self-sufficient;

 - g. During any participant's lifetime, no employability plan beginning on or after July 1, 1997, and no combination of such plans, may include more than twenty-four months, which need not be consecutive months, during which vocational education may be the participant's exclusive, approved work activity unless:

4. Applicants for or recipients of temporary assistance for needy families enrolled as full-time students in any course of vocational education study at the time they become participants may seek approval of an employability plan which continues that course of study if the course of study can reasonably be expected to increase the participant's employability or earnings potential. Approval beyond the current school term may not be granted if the participant is presently qualified for available full-time employment with the potential to provide a wage great enough to allow the participant and the participant's family to become self-sufficient.
5. A participant who, in addition to meeting the minimum required hours in another approved work activity, is enrolled in a self-initiated course of vocational education may receive any supportive service for which a need can be demonstrated, if the vocational education course may reasonably be expected to increase the participant's employability or earnings potential. A participant's approved work activities must take priority over self-initiated vocational education activities. A participant who refuses to seek employment or reduces involvement in approved work activities to accommodate self-initiated vocational education may be sanctioned.
6. When determining whether to approve or support a participant's proposed plan for vocational education, whether the vocational education may be completed as an exclusive work activity or as a self-initiated activity, the coordinator shall also consider:
